The Senior Class of 1932

Central High School

Lima, Ohio

Dedication

To Father, we, the Senior Class of 1932 of Central High School, dedicate this book.

Father—the one who is always interested in what we are striving to do; who is always willing to share our ideas and plans; who is invariably impartial to us; and who looks to us to fulfill his highest ambitions and aspirations.

May we exert every possible effort in making our success his success; and in making his dreams for us come true.

Foreword

The Renaissance was the rediscovery of the ancient world and has been called the Revival of Learning. Freedom of thought was relit during the Renaissance. It also saw the breakdown of feudalism and the uplifting of man.

Today, man is ever seeking new themes for his life, perfecting his work, and relighting the fires that burned so fitfully during the Dark Ages.

The period of the Renaissance marked the era in the history of the world when man experienced an awakening in matters intellectual: when all human endeavor was actuated with a new spirit: when art, music, poetry, science, religion, and literature began to play a larger and fuller part in the affairs of man. Truly this was a forward step on the part of mankind in its endeavor to work out for itself a right philosophy of life. Certainly this great intellectual revival must not be under estimated by any one today, for the accomplishments of these modern times have been almost immeasurable in their scope.

But the real heights have not been scaled as yet. Sometimes we feel that there is not much left to do—and, like Alexander of Old, cry out that there are no more worlds to conquer. What with radio, motor car, ocean liner, airplane, electricity, medicine, surgery, concrete, steel, oil and so on almost indefinitely, we might justify in a measure this way of thinking and say that the fields of progress have been exhausted. But we know that this is not true. All of these discoveries and inventions are but the stepping stones to still greater things on the part of the genius of man.

Yet, we have but to look about us to see that even though man stood still for the next 500 years as far as scientific inventions are concerned, he would still have rich, unexplored, undiscovered and undeveloped fields in which to try his talents and his greatest genius, for his greatest problem is still unsolved, namely—How to Live.

With crime at its height; with nature bountifully supplying food yet millions go hungry; with millions calling for work and no work to be found; with the people burdened with war debts, yet nations dare not lighten this burden for fear of war; with public education spreading by leaps and bounds yet neurotics, suicides, and murders are on the increase—truly we are in need of a new kind of renaissance.

May I say to the class of 1932 and to the classes that are to come—the challenge is yours—and when you are studying your mathematics, your chemistry, your literature, your history, keep in mind the main objective of it all, namely—How to Live. In the last analysis this is why such an institution as Central High school is maintained.

May you do your part in meeting this challenge. If you do and all the youth of the land join in the undertaking, truly another Renaissance and a more far reaching one than the last will be in the making.

Our educational effort of the past fifty years has given us a greatly increased mastery over our material resources. Today we have a scarcity and yet a possible plenty of material good for all of our people. May a new education further increase this mastery and at the same time cause us to equally command our spiritual resources to the end that we may heal as did the knights of old a wounded civilization and realize on those finer hopes and dreams that are within us.

These lines are to be prophetic?—Then let them be the prophecy of a Vision,—that each member of the Class of 1932 may be captured by some Cause, some Purpose, bigger than himself, in the service of which the fire of his devotion will burn out the trival in Life, until he become the valuable Personality that God intends him—or her—to be.

Senior Class History

Our class of nineteen hundred thirty two has established one of the most outstanding and successful records of the school's history. We displayed unusual talent, not only in athletics, but also in debate, music and dramatics.

At the beginning of our freshman year our class chose Leonard Faurot, president; William Cass, vice president; Mabel Hinton, secretary; and Lillian Hunter, treasurer. The representatives on the student council during the same year were Leonard Faurot and William Cass. Miss Ruth Reed, our class supervisor, helped us considerably in our first year of senior high school.

Passing into our sophomore year we again elected Leonard Faurot, class president; John Sarber, vice president; Robert Vittur, secretary; and Dorothy Basinger, treasurer. Leonard Faurot, John Sarber, Robert Vittur, and Anna Florine Randolph were student council members. Miss Gayle Howey was our capable sophomore supervisor.

In our first year as upperclassmen, we had as class officers Leonard Faurot, president; John Sarber, vice president; Mabel Hinton, secretary; and Dorothy Basinger, treasurer. Student council members were Leonard Faurot, John Sarber, Robert Vittur, William Scott, Wemmer Gooding, and Anna Florine Randolph. With the help of Miss Jones, we continued our fine work. The class of '32 presented "Believe It or Not" to an enthusiastic audience. The very capable cast included Robert Miller, James Williams, Tillie Kuhn, Betty Jane Brown, Howard Porter, Mabel Hinton, James Mitchell, Mary Waggoner, Gretchen Marvin, Catherine Nottingham, Avanelle Holbrook, and Roger Andrews. At the close of the year we feted the departing seniors with the Junior Prom.

With the opening of our last year at Central, we once more elected Leonard Faurot as president of our class; Charles Hunter was chosen vice president; Mabel Hinton, secretary; and Anna Florine Randolph, treasurer. We were represented on the student council by John Sarber, William Scott, Wemmer Gooding, Joanna Varga, Doris Keller, James Williams, Leland Welty, and Robert Vittur. Mrs. Swearingen and Miss McClurg, our class supervisors, helped us willingly and capably throughout our last year in high school. This year Joanna Varga, Jennie Belle Noonan, Dorothy Basinger, Mabel Hinton, Gretchen Marvin, Robert Vittur, Helen Bussert, and James Mitchell held high positions on the staffs of the Weekly Mirror and the Annual. Five of these students—Joanna Varga, Dorothy Basinger, Mabel Hinton, and James Mitchell—were elected to the Quill and Scroll, national honorary society for high school journalists. Mrs. Jessie Rhonemus directed our senior class play, "Little Old New York," which was given successfully on May 18.

The dinner dance, given at Shawnee Country Club, was a huge success. On June 4, the senior girls of South and Central were entertained at a delightful tea given in their honor by the College Women's Club.

Commencement marked the climax of four very eventful years. We seniors leave a record which will be long remembered. The class of '32 has upheld the ideals set by preceding classes and has made a mark for coming classes to strive for.

Junior Class History

Upperclassmen at last! Our fondest dreams are realized! "Remember 'way back when" we were little scared freshmen, looking up at the juniors and seniors in awe, and wondering if the day would ever come when we would gaze down at the "greenhorns" with a lordly air?

We elected as our officers, Franklin Young, James Brentlinger, Mary Cutter, and Martha Jackson. Student Councillors are Joan Baxter, Coit Black, Tom Taylor, Merton Sealts, Billy Barndt, and Kent Leach.

Those who gained places on the Honor Roll frequently were Lloyd Reed, Anna Silberman, Kent Leach, Helen Fogelgren, Merrill DeVoe, Betty Kelchner, Merton Sealts, Marjorie Zimmermann, Inez Basinger, Charles Condit, Mary Lou Murphy, and Louise Bessire.

Athletics are considered by most people as the important outside activities, so we shall consider them next. On the football team from the Class of '33 were Capt. James Brentlinger, Franklin Young, Jack Berman, John Lowry, Tom Taylor, Sam Bambaloff, Gene Laibe, Bob Conoway, and Roger Miller. Basketball men were: Capt. James Brentlinger, Bob Blose, and Bill Nuendorff.

In interclass basketball, the junior heavyweights and the junior girls took first place, the lightweights losing to the seniors. Coit Black and Charles Fly led cheers to send these athletes on to victory for their Alma Mater and their class.

This year, the all-important junior play was "The Whippersnappers," by Howard Cheney. The cast included Merton Sealts, Marjorie Zimmermann, Mary Cutter, Kathryn Benedict, Martha Jackson, Merrill DeVoe, Bud Derbyshire, Charles Condit, Franklin Young, Billy Barndt, Harry Hadsell, and Paul Crosser. Juniors who were prominent in other plays presented this year were: Maxine Mayer, Selma Mervis, and Pauline Jones.

Juniors on the Debate squad were: Mary Cutter, Warren Lewis, Kent Leach, Billy Barndt, and John Tillotson.

Many juniors also occupied important positions on both the Annual and Mirror staffs.

We of the Class of '33 wish to express our appreciation to Miss Jones, our class supervisor, for her advice and encouragement throughout the year.

Sophomore Class History

In September of the year 1930, a large group of frightened youngsters entered the portals of Central High school. They were fearful of their superiors and were sometimes rudely ordered around by upperclassmen. In spite of this, they entered whole-heartedly into the spirit and activities of Central. The officers that successfully piloted the class through its freshman year were Kade Wilkinson, president; Paul Strange, vice president; Barbara Claypoole, secretary; and William Guyton, treasurer. Student Council members were Mary McKee and William Vincent.

The same group returned in the fall of 1931, graduated to the position of sophomores. They again elected Kade Wilkinson, president; Mary McKee, vice president; Mariam Wise, secretary; and Gene Heil, treasurer, as officers. Representatives on the Student Council were Barbara Claypoole, Paul Strange, Nancy Hover, and William Vincent.

Although only half-way through its high school journey, the class of '34 has already accomplished much for itself and its Alma Mater.

Several students have made enviable records in scholarship this year, having been on the honor roll nearly every time. They were Julianne Bussert, Alene Craun, Charles Eckert, Nancy Hover, Hannah Owen, and Irene Simmons.

The Sophs placed third in the field meet, but nevertheless the class has several outstanding athletes. They are Kade Wilkinson, Roland Pape, Vail Bayly, Paul Tuttle, and Rex Jones. The sophomore girls' volleyball team came out the winners in the championship games. The team consisted of Mary Margaret Scheid, captain, Eleanor Stiles, Marzetta Shindollar, Dorothy Wright, Fay Evelyn Dill, Rosella Querry, Betty McLaughlin, Miriam Wise, Gertrude Blank, Charity Murray, Betty Jean Smith, and Ruth Saylor.

Two sophomores were elected for the cheerleading squad. Pat Swaney was chosen for head girls' cheerleader with Mary McKee as one of her assistants.

In both the Masquerader and Troubadour Dramatic clubs, the class of '34 was well represented. Those prominent in dramatics were Josephine Gordon, James Miller, Charles Eckert, Hannah Owen, Frederick Morley, Nancy Hover, Mary Porter, Mary David, Barbara Diehl, Robert Cupp, and George Countryman.

The journalists of the class who worked on the Weekly Mirror staff were Charles Eckert, Dottie Leonard, Mary Margaret Scheid, Shirley Baker, Hannah Owen, Mary David, Nancy Hover, William Guyton, Eleanor Stiles, Betty Timmerman, Barbara Diehl, Carmen Stultz, and Jo Gordon. Those on the Annual staff were Gertrude Blank, Dorothy Wright, Mary Lowry, Alice Bacome, Alene Craun, Steward Scobey, and Robert Obenour.

In addition to these accomplishments the class of '34 has shown up in other activities, such as debate and clubs.

The class of '34 wishes to express its appreciation to Miss Howey for her advice and guidance as class supervisor.

Freshman Class History

Although not much is expected of a Freshman Class, the three hundred fifty-nine members of the class of '35 who entered into senior high last September have accomplished a great deal. The freshmen have just started through that perilous journey—high school. One year has been spent in deep study toward the attainment of that seemingly impossible goal—graduation.

Members of this rapidly advancing group were carefully guided by Charles Crosser, president; Eugene Bessire, vice president; Betty Watson, secretary; and Wilbur Miller, treasurer. Hilda Winemiller and Robert Light represented the class on the student council. Miss Ruth Reed was the class supervisor.

Bob Light, Eugene Bessire, and Helen Smith displayed remarkable talent in the senior high dramatic club productions which were presented at Central this year.

Lloyd Whittington, Edward Achbach, Mary Beery, and Dorothy McKinley represented their class on the Weekly Mirror and Annual staffs.

In the annual field meet, the freshmen class, under the direction of Charles Crosser, field day captain, showed its strength and good sportsmanship in winning second place. The colors under which the class of '35 marched were purple and gold.

One of the outstanding social affairs of the class was the musicale-tea given by the freshmen members of the Blue Triangle Club for the sophomore, junior, and senior girls. Betty Rose Kolter had charge of the tea. Miss Jeannette Stuart and Doris Keller led in the interesting discussions that were held.

The freshman boys and girls showed up very well in athletics. They did excellently in intramural and interclass games. Bob Atkinson, a prominent member of the class, was elected cheerleader.

The Freshman Class made a strong showing in debate this year. On April 11, thirty freshmen tried out to make the class team. This was the largest number from any class in senior high to participate in debate. Stanton W. Steiner was the freshman supervisor.

Freshmen who stood high scholastically were Ruth Burdick, Helen Marie Miller, Donald Wright, Elizabeth Hague, Richard Kohler, Betty Rose Kolter, Doris Rohn, Charles Crosser, Donald Hensler, Hilda Winemiller, Phyllis Murphy, Virginia Price, Elaine Custer, David Horine, Richard Roeder, Marion Willower, and Frances Ann Harvey.

The school year is now ended and with it comes the thought that next year these freshmen will be sophomores.

Junior High

SEVENTH GRADE

EIGHTH GRADE

Junior High History

Under the joint leadership of Mr. Leach and Mr. Romaker, Junior High is becoming more and more "Centralized." It is participating, to a greater extent, in school activities and functions. Miss Ridenour was the seventh grade supervisor while Miss McPheron served as eighth grade supervisor during the past year.

Election of class officers ended with the following results: seventh grade—Billy Sells, president; Richard Johnson, vice president; Betty Laughlin, treasurer; Beatrice Norton, secretary; Jack Hilgendorf, Student Council representative; eighth grade—Forest Moor, president; Dorothy Kershaw, vice president; Robert Rohn, secretary; Clarence Frey, treasurer; and John Timmermeister, Student Council representative.

As its annual operetta, Junior High presented "The Saucy Hollandaise," a two act comedy, under the excellent direction of Miss Jeanette Stuart and Miss Violet Lewis. Jean Morley and Don Roberson, who played the leads, were supported by Joe Freeman, Hollis McDonel, Eugene Stoner, Richard McCormick, Jeanne Pond, Carlton Asher, Hugh Day, and Marjorie Chapman. The Junior orchestra, under the splendid supervision of Mark Evans and composed mainly of Junior High students, played for this occasion.

The Junior High clubs were very successful this year in spreading a feeling of comradeship among its students. The most important clubs and their supervisors were: the Book Lovers' Club, supervised by Miss Nora Keville; Dramatic, Miss Ruth Hawisher; Leisure Time, Miss Chiles; Seventh Grade Arts and Craft, Miss Pearl Thut; Eighth Grade Arts and Craft, Miss Clara Helle; Industrial Arts, Mr. Lowman; Seventh Grade Recreation, Mr. Lee; Eighth Grade Recreation, Mr. Overholser; and the Girls' Glee, Miss Violet Lewis.

The Junior High basketball team deserves comment upon its many victories and high standing in abilities and sportsmanship. The seventh and eighth grades stood comparatively high in the events of the Field Day.

Even in the rather mature field of debating, Junior High displayed commendable talent. Under the supervision of Mr. Overholser, the eight grade debate teams did unusually good work. The teams included Robert Rohn, William Larsen, Jack Dinsmore, Donald Roberson, Carlton Asher, John Davison, and as alternates, Kathleen Baxter and Helen Brock.

Junior High ranked first in number of students on the honor roll each estimate. Pupils on the honor roll in the eighth grade were: Ellen Benner, Hollis McDonel, Elizabeth Neuman, Billy Wolf, Virginia Basinger, Kathleen Baxter, Helen Hossellman, William Larsen, Jean Morley, Marshall Rogers, Faye Baggs, Jack Dinsmore, Marjorie Miller, Margaret Augsberger, Mary Bender, Anne Calvert, Frances Laughlin, Ruby Neese, Carlton Asher, Darwin Loy, Mary Anne Dawe, Carolyn Bodiker, Jean Engle, Margaret Jane Schnabel, Jean Yazel, Dorothy Claypoole, Jeanne Fiedler, Shirley Kinzer, Robert Rohn, Robert Offenhauer, Betty Basden, Margaret Collins, Betty Freshwater, Philip Kessler, Forest Moore, Marguerite Morris, Jean Ransbottom, Jack Rapp, and Helene Stonehill. Seventh grade: Charles Thompson, Beatrice Norton, Ruth Reed, Dorothy Rapp, Ruthela Dulin, Mary Catherine Basinger, Isabelle Street, Doris DeGarmo, Betty Laughlin, Helen Hill, Billy Burke, Dorothy Stelzer, and Joan Bessire.

Athletics

Coaches

A group of fellows who always give every participant a "fair deal," consider clean sportsmanship, the most important thing in a game, bring about hearty co-operation and good feeling in the teams—these are our coaches. How can we keep from admiring and praising them?

Mr. Umbreit, our football coach, is there when it comes to "he-man" discipline and wise coaching. Our expectations are high for next year's football season. Mr. Umbreit is kept busy during the spring season as track coach.

From out of the upper atmosphere emerges the enthusiastic countenance of Mr. Scheuerman, basketball coach. His boys have done remarkably well during recent years and there is every possibility that they will continue the good work.

A new major sport has been introduced to Central this year—swimming. Under the praiseworthy efforts of Coach Hauenstein, the team has reached a high record and probable standard for future teams.

Mr. Steward, baseball coach, can be relied upon to turn out a good team of sluggers and fielders. Mr. Steward is also assistant football coach and takes care of the reserves in this field.

It so happens that each and every one of the coaches is a talented orator and can speak for himself if necessary; and what pupil has not felt the importance of clean sportsmanship that these men have constantly emphasized before both the teams, and the student body?

Managers

FIRST ROW—Charles Hepler, Burt Ruff, Bunny Jackson, Ernest Davenport.
SECOND ROW—Roger Andrews, Roland Pape, Rex Jones.

If you like to work hard and yet have fun, be a sports manager at Central. The duties of the managers range from taking care of equipment to acting as amateur physician in case of injury. Nevertheless, the feeling of work well done and contentment of the team is well nigh heart soothing. We can not overestimate the importance of our managers.

The head football manager, Jerry Brown, is a veteran player and was well liked by the entire squad. Jerry's knowledge of the game was a great help to his work as manager. His assistants were Bert Ruff, Robert Scheufler, Charles Hepler, Bunny Jackson, and Ernest Davenport. Scheufler was chosen as next year's manager.

Roger Andrews, bass voice and all, served as basketball manager. Skipper was a reliable chap and was always there, usually with a smile. His unfailing aid was Rex Jones.

The swimming manager, Al Gunther, also had plenty to do. We wonder whether this enthusiastic lad was ever ducked for any pranks he might have done. Gunther's right hand man was hard-working Rudy Judkins.

Cheerleaders

Atkinson, Fly, Black — Swaney, Kuhn, McKee

"The student body certainly did support athletics this year." This wasn't an uncommon remark to be heard on the front steps, in the corridors, or in fact, any place where the students congregate. Most all of the credit goes to the cheerleaders. They were always willing and eager to lead cheers for our battling warriors. The cheerleading staff this year was not lacking in originality, lots of pep, and also, good looks.

Kathryn Swaney, better known as "Patty," has been leading cheers for two years. This year she ably filled the position of head girl cheerleader. Lots of power next year, Patty.

Coit Black has been head boy cheerleader for two years. Good luck next year, Coit.

Mary McKee became first assistant to "Patty" and is a howling success. She has two more years to serve us.

Charles Fly, assistant to Coit, is still showing plenty of pep. He still has another year to show us how he can make the mob yell.

Hildreth Kuhn, always called "Tillie," proved a valuable member of the staff and has shown plenty of pep.

Bobbie Atkinson, a freshman, was always ready to do his part. We're expecting a lot from you.

Bluffton

On September 26, the team journeyed to Bluffton, and overcame the opening-game-jinx of the past two years with a decisive 19-7 victory. Prospects for a winning team seemed very bright after the showing made in the "opener." Built from a few veterans and the reserves of last year, the Dragons showed themselves to have fight, a hard-charging line, and a promising backfield. A last quarter attack, featured by the playing of Brentlinger in the backfield, and Bambaloff, Smith, and Young on the line, brought two touchdowns and our first victory over Bluffton since 1928.

Bowling Green

Bowling Green opened our home season on October 3, and local fans were treated to a hard-fought, well played game. A pass from Brentlinger to Vittur provided the margin of victory, 6-0. Asher, Faurot, and Brentlinger led our offensive, while the line again proved its strength by holding the Bee Gees to three first downs and consistently outplaying their opponents. Although Central was the aggressor and had the ball in Bowling Green territory most of the game, the scoring punch was lacking when a touchdown was in view. Substitutions were quite frequent, showing a fair supply of reserve material. Faurot's returning of punts, and a 53 yard jaunt by Bob Asher provided the spectators with thrills.

Celina

On Friday, October 9, the Dragons traveled to Celina for their first night game, accompanied by an excellent turnout of Centralites. After being held to a 6-0 score in the first half, our boys came to life in the final half, marched to three touchdowns, and came home with a convincing 25-0 victory. A 45 yard pass from Brentlinger to Taylor opened the scoring in the first quarter. Neither team threatened in the second period, but Central came back with a rush in the final quarter, scoring three touchdowns by means of sustained, line-smashing drives. Brent was once more the big gun in our attack, being aided by skillful blocking. The line was vastly superior to Celina's, and we amassed 17 first downs to our opponents 3.

The student body was jubilant following our third consecutive triumph.

Dayton Kiser

Our hopes dropped slightly when Dayton Kiser invaded Lima for our second home game with a big, fast, hard charging team which finally subdued the stubborn Dragons for the first defeat of the season. The teams fought hard and played excellent football through the game. Our student support was again splendid. Both teams looked best defensively, although Central made six downs to four for the visitors. Penalties were numerous. Laibe was the shining star in the play of our boys, tackling, blocking, and carrying the ball in great style. The entire team showed its cooperation and "Never say die" spirit, in spite of the heavy going. The lone score came as a result of Randolph's 35 yard broken field run, and the game ended 6-0.

A triangular cross country meet provided additional entertainment between the halves. Dayton Roosevelt, Lima South, and Central finished in the order named.

Defiance

The Dragons broke back into the winning column by traveling to Defiance on the 24th and taming the Bulldogs by a 14-7 count. Defiance drew first blood in the opening quarter on a pass from Clemens to Smith. A sustained drive of 42 yards in the second quarter tied the score. With only a few minutes of the last quarter to play, Brent passed to Laibe for the winning points. Central showed its superiority by getting 12 first downs to the opponent's five, and netting a total gain of 131 yards, although the scoring punch was again missing at crucial moments. The entire team fought hard throughout, and deserve every credit for the hard-earned victory, the fourth of the season.

Dayton Steele

Steele journeyed here from Dayton on the following Saturday, and added insult to our defeat by Kiser. The final score was 15-7, but the visitors pulled through only after one of the hardest played games on the local field. Although outweighed, the plucky Dragons played their heavier opponents on nearly even terms throughout the game. Brent scored our only touchdown in the opening period, when he snagged a Dayton pass and traveled 35 yards for the score. He passed to Laibe for the extra point. Dayton blocked a punt for a safety in the second quarter, and scored their touchdown in the last half by marches down the field of 47 and 90 yards. Although Central threatened, and once carried the ball to Dayton's yard line, Steele always braced and turned back our every effort. May the future bring more success in our games against Dayton teams!

Middletown

The team journeyed to Middletown the following Saturday, and received its second consecutive defeat, and, incidentally, the worst drubbing of the season, by the one-sided score of 41-0. The entire team played well, but its stubborn defense was battered down by the larger and more experienced Middy eleven. Our team was outplayed in nearly every department of the game, but made a good showing in face of the strong opposition. Luckily, the Dragons emerged without any serious injuries, and probably with a greater respect for their future opponents.

Findlay

Central dropped its third consecutive game to Findlay on November 14, before a colorful home-coming crowd of 3000 fans, by a score of 21-6. Led by their flashy halfback, Diel Beltz, the invaders scored two touchdowns in the initial quarter, and one more in the closing period. Beltz made all of Findlay's 21 points. Although our boys came back strongly, and outplayed Findlay in the last three quarters, the opposition was a little too great. Johnny Hooks, Central's redheaded halfback, was our most consistent ground-gainer. The entire team played alert ball throughout, and the game was a thrilling one from start to finish. This defeat, the fourth of the year, gave Central a record of four won and four lost. The "classy" playing gave the entire school additional hopes for a victory from South.

THANKSGIVING GAME

Central-South

A determined, well-conditioned team went over to South Field Thanksgiving morning, determined to conquer its city rival and finish the season with a favorable balance in the winning column. The starting lineup was practically the same one that played throughout the season. The Dragons started with a rush, played a fast, hard-charging, and heads-up game, and subdued the Tigers by a 13-0 count. The line, led by Gunther and Young, was a stonewall, always bracing when necessary. The team, although unable to gain consistently and surpassed by their rivals in the number of first downs, showed a world of punch when within scoring distance. The team made the breaks by hard playing, and then took advantage of them. Brentlinger scored the first touchdown on a line plunge from the one-yard line. Laibe provided the spectators with a thrill, when he successfully executed an end-around play for our second and final score. At no time was South in a real threatening position. So our boys came home "with the bacon," and a percentage of .555 for the season. And Coach Umbreit, to whom much of the credit for the winning season is due, has promised us even greater things next year.

GOMER

Central inaugurated its 1931-1932 basketball season on December 12 by subduing a plucky Gomer team, 38-12. Ten players saw action as Coach Scheuerman sought to overcome a winning combination. The Dragons gave indications of a successful season with their fast passing, accurate shooting attack. Central jumped into the lead early in the game and was never threatened. Captain Brentlinger led the scoring with eleven points, followed by Vittur with seven. The entire team looked well defensively.

GALION

Galion, seeking revenge for the defeat at Central's hands in the District Tournament last year, landed us our first set-back, 14-12. Both teams played classy ball throughout the game, especially on the defense. Although the Dragons lead 9 to 7 at the start of the last quarter, their opponents, led by Ekahill, a center, nosed them out. Turner, our center, led his team in scoring with five points.

DOLA

The Red and Green easily subdued Dola the following evening on the local South floor. The team presented a whirlwind attack which completely overwhelmed the visitors. The final score was 34 to 12. Ten men again saw action, eight of them breaking into the scoring column. Vittur and Kramer led their teams in scoring with 10 and 4 points respectively.

CRIDERSVILLE

The Dragons registered their third triumph on December 28 by downing Cridersville, 26-16. After playing superior ball the first half, the team became listless and although outscored in the first half, managed to maintain a safe margin. Vittur again led the team offensively, while Newton shone in the defensive department.

PORTSMOUTH

A capacity crowd witnessed the game with last year's state champions, and were treated with one of the most thrilling games of the season. The invaders held a 15 to 4 margin at half time, but the Dragons came back with a spectacular finish which just fell short. The game ended 26-23. Cropper, All-State guard, and Brentlinger put on a great duel, each man garnering six points and playing marvelous floor games. We'll be after Portsmouth next year!

FINDLAY

Central broke back into its winning stride by outclassing Findlay in every department, and packing home a decisive 32-7 victory. Findlay was held scoreless the first half. Brentlinger with nine points, Turner with seven, and Newton with six, led the Dragon offensive. The defense was air-tight throughout the game. Again ten players saw action for the Red and Green.

HAMILTON

We were handed a jolt by Hamilton the following Friday. The down-staters led 14 to 8 at the half, 16-15 at the end of the third quarter and ended with a comfortable 25-16 margin. Both teams played fast, heady ball, but our boys were finally subdued. Scoring for the Dragons was evenly divided. Arnold, at center for Hamilton, proved a thorn in Central's side by amassing nine points.

LANCASTER

A small, speedy Lancaster team invaded Lima on January 16, and was sent home on the short end of a 23 to 13 count. It was our fifth victory in eight starts. Lancaster had the lead first, but Central led them 8-3 at the quarter and was never headed thereafter. The game was one of the most interesting of the season, both teams claiming polished attacks and defenses. Captain Brentlinger, with nine points, led the evening's scoring. The rival captain, Perry, accounted for six of his team's points.

SOUTH

The first inter-city game was played on January 22, on the South floor. Although handicapped by the absence of Blose, Vittur, and Brentlinger, the Dragons put up a stubborn battle, and were barely nosed out by a score of 17-14. Outscored 12-4 the first half, the team came back strong, but again fell short of the coveted victory. Led by Bachley, the Southerners were not to be headed. In scoring and defensive play, the Central team was well balanced and divided honors evenly. It was a bitter dose to swallow, but South fully deserved to win.

WOODWARD

Toledo Woodward's Polar Bears journeyed to South Gym and ran our losing streak to two games, when they took home a hard-earned 20-16 win. Although tied at the end of the first quarter, Woodward was never again headed. The Red and Green machine was decidedly off form, missing shots of all variety and presenting a ragged passing and defensive game. Smith, at guard, accounted for 14 of his team's twenty points.

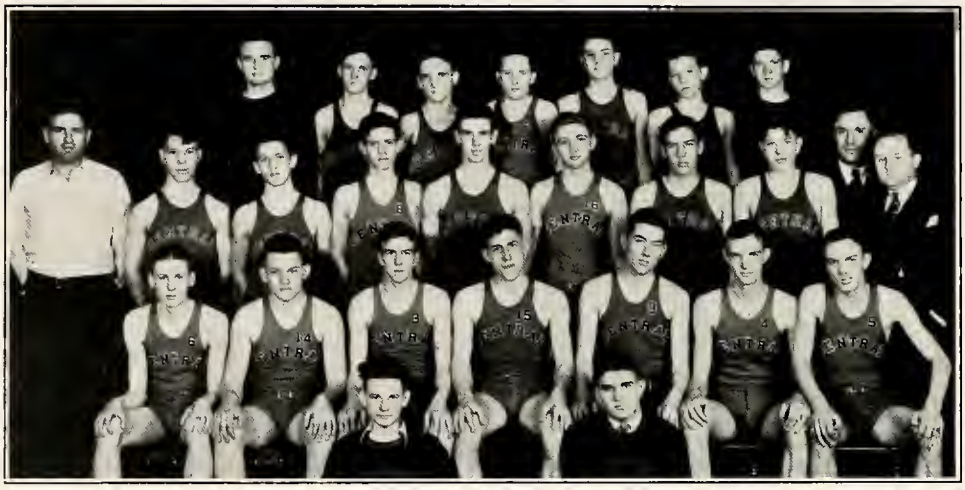
PIQUA

Central looked like a ball team again when we traveled to Piqua on February 5, and administered a 36 to 12 drubbing to that down state team. The boys had things their own way throughout, and the eight players who saw action all played masterful basketball. Blose and Newton, with 11 and 10 points, led the offense, while the defense was once more air-tight.

VAN WERT

The following night, our winning streak reached two games when Van Wert was humbled, 16-13. The invaders presented a fast-breaking team which nearly wiped out Central's lead in the final quarter. The Dragons withstood the final attack in fine shape, however, and the victory was ours. "Bucket" Blose led the scoring for the second consecutive night.

Basketball Squad



MONROEVILLE

Again driving off a final rally, the Dragons annexed their eighth victory of the season at Monroeville on February 12. The score was 16-15. The boys outplayed their rivals in all but the last quarter. Blose, with five points, led the scoring for the third straight time. The victory marked our longest winning streak of the regular season, three games in a row.

SOUTH

Our friendly enemy snuffed our winning streak most rudely by a score of 25-12. The Tigers battered the Red and Green clads all over the floor. There was no alibi—Central was off floor, South was "hot," and they completely outplayed us in every department, although using a total of eleven players. Lutman and Vittur led their respective teams in scoring. Their second victory over us gained South undisputed possession of the mythical city title.

GARRETT

A revamped lineup, presenting Vittur at center, Herbst and Blose as forwards, and Nuendorff and Brentlinger as guards, met a determined Garrett team in the South gym, February 26, and emerged victorious, 22-19. The game was a close, thrilling one throughout. Both teams played whirlwind ball and missed frequent shots. Brentlinger hit his stride and gathered ten points to take scoring honors for the evening.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT—KENTON—MARCH 3, 4, 5

Using the same team which defeated Garrett, Central opened the tournament against Wapakoneta with a 19-7 victory. The Dragons presented a cautious offense and an excellent defense. They were never in danger. Wapak fought hard to the last gun, but in vain. In the semi-finals, the Red and Green conquered Kenton in the most rough and tumble game of the year. Playing the same cool, deliberate game, the boys marched on to the finals. Herbst and Vittur, with five points each, led the scoring. On Saturday evening, March 5, we met Findlay in the finals. Again the Dragons displayed an amazing defense and a cool, brainy offense. Brentlinger, with 7 points, and Herbst and Nuendorff with 6, led the scoring. Beltz, at center, looked best for Findlay. The Dragons were easily the class of the tournament, and at no time were they threatened seriously.

In addition to the victory of the team, Central copped first and second places in the foul shooting contest held in conjunction with the tournament. Newton and Ford placed first and second respectively.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT—FINDLAY—MARCH 10, 11, 12

Central drew a bye in the first round, and met Ashland at 11:00 a. m., Friday, March 11, in our first and last fame of the tourney. Although supported by nearly five hundred Lima rooters, the team dropped a close game, 16-14. Led by their tall center, Thomas (destined to become All-State center), who garnered seven points; the Ashland team eliminated the stubborn Dragons. Both teams were nervous and erratic, missing shot after shot. The game was a thrilling one from start to finish, and Ashland worked hard for its well deserved victory.

Minor Sports

Baseball and Track---1931

Baseball enjoyed a very successful season in 1931 under Coach Steward. The team played thirteen games and won nine. Iiames was our most successful pitcher, and Basil Van Horn, our catcher, proved the "Babe Ruth" of the team.

The team was the city champion as a result of two victories over South, 2-1 and 7-1. Both games were well played, and witnessed by large crowds.

In the district tournament at Kenton, Galion eliminated us 3 to 0 in the first game.

Letters were awarded to Van Horn, Iiames, Schneider, Hughes, Scott. Brown, Lytle, Faurot, K. Pape, Seigel, Laibe, Ford, Koch, and Jacobs.

Numeral men were Jones, Coulter, Rutter, Burke, R. Pape, Andrews, and Faize.

Richard Churchill performed creditably as student manager, assisted by Herb Lanker and Phil Kline.

The 1931 track team was one of the most successful in recent years. Mr. Umbreit produced a capable squad of both track and field men.

Dual meets with Lima South, Toledo Waite, and St. Marys followed on the 11th, 18th, and 24th of April. The Dragons won by a decisive margin.

On April 24th Coach Umbreit took a full squad to the Defiance Relays, where the Dragons made a fine showing and finished fifth.

On the 9th the Dragons engaged in a five way meet at Findlay. The Dragons "copped" first honors. Vogelsang of South was high point man of the meet, followed by Broxon and Asher of Central.

In the district meet, May 16th, the Dragons were unable to qualify any men for the State meet.

Letters were awarded to Broxon (captain), Cotteman, Hobbs, Zapp, Brentlinger, Cook, Herbst, Gooding, Wagner, Young, Stepleton, Reid, and Asher.

Numeral men were Shumate, Cross, Scheifler, Ferguson, Helpler, and Crosser.

Student managers were Lloyd Crabb and Farman Randolph.

Swimming Team

FIRST ROW—Kenneth Mowen, Chester Bernstein, Franklin Young, Len Faurot, Charles Hunter.

Swimming opened this year for the first time as a major sport. Although handicapped by not having a pool of their own in which to practice, the swimmers have made a very successful season. As far as victories go, Central has won seven out of eight meets, taken second place in the sectional meet at Toledo, then with the team all set for a victory at the district meet at Cleveland, the boys pulled down three disqualifications, which gave us fifth place in the meet and ruined all hopes of a State Championship. At the state meet held in the new Natatorium of Ohio State University, Franklin Young came through with a first in the back stroke, and Young with Chester Bernstein and Leonard Faurot set a new state record in winning the Medley Relay. Central finished third in this meet. Cleveland Heights and Cleveland Shaw taking first and second place respectively.

The team was coached by Mr. Hauenstein with the help of W. E. Deitrick of the local Y. M. C. A.

Interclass scores—seniors 1, juniors 2, sophomores 4, freshmen 3.
Sectional meet—Sandusky 1, Central 2, Toledo Scott 3.

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized in 1925 by Mrs. White, girls' physical instructor, for the purpose of cooperation with the Department of Physical Education, girls' division, in promoting health, good sportsmanship, physical efficiency, and athletic accomplishment.

The aim of the association is to find some activity that will interest each girl at Central.

The activities sponsored by the association are volleyball, basketball, indoor baseball, track and field, tennis, hikes, skating parties, swimming parties, sleighing parties, hay-rack rides and skill tests in basketball.

Awards are presented at the close of the year in the following forms: a class numeral to a member who has earned 600 points under the point system; a "C" to a junior or senior who has earned 1200 points; a final emblem (pin) to a graduating senior "C" girl elected upon the basis of athletic accomplishment, spirit, service, and scholarship.

The Annual

The Annual Staff of 1932 has cooperated willingly and with great success. Much time and effort has been exerted by both the staff and faculty advisors. This Annual is not the sole work of one or two individuals, but of every single member of the staff.

William Barndt has zealously taken care of the finances, and Dorothy Wright has ably upheld her position as advertising manager. Robert Vittur is one, if not the best, art editor the annual has ever had, and Helen Gillette and Betty Jane Brown have most assuredly filled their positions as studio appointment and photography editors. Mable Hinton, as literary editor, and the literary staff have untiringly and promptly finished their work. Bud Derbyshire and Margaret Clevenger, the typists for the Annual, have capably filled their positions. The kind suggestions, time, and efforts of Mr. Heffner and Miss Riggs were greatly appreciated.

Central has edited many fine annuals, all of which have received exceptionally high ratings. The 1925 annual was rated as All-American. We have attempted to live up to the standard set by the preceding annuals, even though we have been unusually hampered financially.

The Mirror

The members of the staff of the Mirror this year feel that the issues during 1931-1932 compare favorably with those of the other years, in spite of the fact that, due to enforced financial stringency, not as much money could be spent on them.

This year the aim of the paper was to arouse student interest in school activities. Another endeavor, and probably one more generally appreciated by the student body, was to give amusement. Betty Jane Cox wrote several clever parodies and Gretchen Marvin, the feature editor, could make any assignment interesting.

Thirteen issues were published during the year. Several of these were rather unique, and not a small part of the credit for this goes to Bob Vittur for his unusual and clever cuts.

The first of these outstanding issues was dedicated to Armistice Day. It was the first Central paper to give student opinions of war and peace.

The second big issue was the Christmas one. An effort was made to draw attention to the breath-taking beauty and spiritual significance of the anniversary of the birth of the Christ Child, as well as to the harmless but almost pagan Santa Claus celebrations.

The long looked for "Hot Number" appeared at last in April. The staff heads worked hard over this issue, but they probably enjoyed inventing the situations even more than the students enjoyed discovering them.

The last special issue was, of course, the senior one. The staff gave its best efforts to it as the final milestone in the year's accomplishments and tried to make it a fitting farewell to Central.

Miss Jamison as literary editor and Mr. Heffner as business manager have given valuable aid and cooperation with the staff.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, honorary society for high school journalists, was founded at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, in April, 1926. A few months later, in October of the same year, Lima Central received a charter to the organization. Central was the first school in Ohio to become a member of the Quill and Scroll society.

Since then the association has grown rapidly in size. Quill and Scroll now numbers over six hundred chapters. These are located in England, Hawaii, China, Alaska, and British Honduras. More than twelve thousand students have received the honorary membership pin to the journalistic society.

Quill and Scroll was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism, and the society has taken an active part in raising standards in this field.

To receive a Quill and Scroll pin is a distinct honor. To become a member of this association, a student must work at least two years on either the literary or business staff of his high school paper; he must be a junior or senior; he must make an average of two or better in each of his subjects; he must earn fifteen hundred points; his work must be approved by the faculty advisors and by the national committee of the Quill and Scroll. After meeting all of these requirements, the student becomes a member of an association which is international in fame and enrollment.

The Troubadourian Dramatic Society, under the able direction of Mrs. Rhonemus, has proven to be one of the popular clubs at Central High school. At each bi-monthly meeting one of the committee consisting of Ida Goldin, Mary Emma Hadsell, Pauline Jones, Martha Jackson, Selma Mervis, and Geraldine Miller directs a short play. Besides this, readings and impersonations are given and discussions are held.

An interesting new feature has been "The Scrap Book" which is to be presented by this year's membership to those of future years. All topics pertaining to the Troubadours are attractively compiled in this book. The committee in charge is Helen Shuler, chairman; Jean Bowman, and George CaJacob. This feature is chiefly due to the efforts of the president, James Mitchell.

At the beginning of each year, dramatic tryouts are held with several members of the faculty acting as judges. Only pupils with outstanding dramatic ability are made members of this club. When once a member of the Troubadourian Club, no further tryouts are necessary in successive years. All Junior Class Play casts automatically become members of this club without trying out.

The annual play was "The Jade God," the second mystery play that the club has presented. It was a clever and interesting farce which proved to be very successful.

Through this club's efforts much has been done to supply the desire for good, wholesome dramatic entertainment.

Masqueraders

NANCY HOVER - - - - - - - - - President
ROBERT ATKINSON - - - - - - - Vice President
HANNAH OWEN - - - - - - Secretary-Treasurer

The Masqueraders Dramatic Club was founded in 1924 by Miss Dorothy Faris. The purpose of the club was to further the interest of dramatics in Central, and to present plays for public entertainment.

The first annual play, "The Charm School," was staged in 1925.

This year the club under the supervision of Miss Jeanette Stuart has been most successful in carrying out its purpose.

Early in the year, a group of members presented a small playlet, "The House of Ashes" in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week. This was broadcast over radio station H R E S.

On February 18 the Masqueraders successfully staged their annual play, "The Quest," before a capacity crowd in the auditorium. This play was selected by a committee consisting of James Miller, Mary David, and Shirley Baker.

At each meeting one-act plays were rendered by members of the club. Each play was directed and managed by the club members.

A program committee consisting of Robert Light, chairman, Mary Margaret Scheid, Carol Holbrook, Eugene Bessire, Mary David, Eleanor Stiles, Robert Cupp, and Josephine Gordon selected the plays and had charge of the activities of the club.

The meetings this year were held in the auditorium, where not only dramatic skill could be developed, but actual experience in stage handling could be gained.

Membership into the club is gained through try-outs held at the beginning of the school year. Each applicant is required to give a reading of some dramatic passage or poem at this time.

Although most of the members are underclassmen, the club is one of the most popular.

Troubadourian Play

What a terrifying success "The Jade God" turned out! This was the annual play of the troubadourian Dramatic Society. How aptly each character portrayed his role. Who can forget the mysterious and tricky Blunt, the wierd hypnotic, excellently characterized by Charles Condit? Who would think that John Mitchell was not the murderer, and that the shriekingly calm Perkins, Pauline Jones, was his wife. The leads were Maxine Mayer, as Jean Millicent, extremely charming in her superstitions, and Merton Sealts, as Jack Derrick, the comforting lover and keen analyzer. Edith Derrick, sensible and fascinating as Jack's sister, was taken by Martha Jackson, while the suspicious Mrs. Thursby was aptly characterized by Helen Schuler. John Millicent, the dead man, was in real life, Paul Crosser. Comedy was provided by Franklin Young, as Inspector Burke, and his co-worker, Ralph Goldin, as Peters.

At the opening of the play John Millicent is found lying across his desk —dead. Jack Derrick, in order to marry Jean Millicent must find the murderer of her father. He moves into the ghastly house with his sister and immediately starts investigating. The curse of the Jade God is upon this house and Derrick struggles to find the image. Everyone, from the house maid to the peddler that comes to the door, is suspected. Mrs. Thursby, Martin, Perkins, Blunt— all are thought to have a hand in the murder. After many entanglements, it is found out that the Oriental peddler, Blunt, is the guilty person. All efforts of escape being fruitless, he takes poison Finally, this triumph for Jack Derrick results in a happy ending of the romance between him and Jean Millicent.

Again, an expression of appreciation for the success of the play is due to Mrs. Rhonemus, who directed the play. Also the services of Selma Mervis as property manager, and Kathryn Benedict, as business manager, was appreciated.

Masqueraders Play

What is happiness? From what channels comes forth contentment? These are the questions touched upon by "The Quest," the play given by the Masquerader's Club. This play typifies modern life and is especially appealing to high school students.

James Miller, as Caleb Armstrong, and Josephine Gordon, as Sylvia, his wife, led the cast. They were mamma and papa to Julian, struggling college student, portrayed by Frederic Morley; Constance, high school heart-breaker, taken by Hannah Owen; Wanda, the younger daughter, vain, and seeking prominence, portrayed by Helen Smith; and Billy, the youngest child and favorite of his father, acted by Eugene Bessire. Wasn't he cute in his littleness? Then there was Herbert Ross, a friend of Constance, characterized by Robert Light. "Boy, oh boy," what a lover! Dr. Wood, the family physician, taken by Charles Eckert, and Mrs. Pat Mulligan, an old acquaintance, portrayed by Nancy Hover, proved to be true friends of the Armstrong family. The remainder of the cast was a group of high school students portrayed by Barbara Diehl, Frances Harvey, Mary David, Mary Porter, George Countryman, Robert Cupp, Fred Hippey, and Paul Rockey.

Caleb Armstrong, unsuccessful business man, is disgusted with himself because he can not give his family all the comforts of life. When his youngest child is seriously injured in an accident, Caleb loses his control and becomes sullen and morose. His wife is forced to work and his children must temporarily drop their education. The climax occurs when Dr. Wood, the family physician, discovers that Caleb has a flare for writing and convinces him to enter on this field for his livelihood. In the conclusion, Caleb becomes a success and every body is happy. The scene of the play is the Armstrong home.

The play was under the able direction of Miss Stuart, assisted by Mr. Steiner as manager of stage, scenery, and properties. Further, Catherine Monbeck, business manager, Carmen Stultz, property manager, and Catherine Kelly, publicity manager, gave valuable service.

Junior Class Play

"Whippersnappers," the Junior class play, inaugurated the dramatic season this year. It lived up to Central's high standard of dramatic presentations. every character being ably portrayed and nonchalantly acted.

Three love plots supplied plenty of romance. Richard Morgan, a young reforming minister, taken by Merton Sealts, was idolized by faithful Josephine Stratford, acted by Martha Jackson. As for Elizabeth Morgan, sister of the young preacher, acted by Mary Cutter, and Dudley Grant, a fast stepping city slicker who means well, portrayed by Billie Barndt—well, that was just love at first sight. Then there was the more involved love affair of Barbara Lee, portrayed by Kathryn Benedict, and Jerry Truman, pal of Dudley Grant, who has decided to do good, taken by Franklin Young. Doctor Gerald or Charles Condit, who some say gave the best dramatization, was an oldster who took the side of youth. Mrs. Morgan, acted by Marjorie Zimmerman, and Wade Truman, wise father of Jerry Truman, portrayed by Paul Crosser, supplied the maternal and paternal love. What's a play without a villain or two? "Whippersnappers" had its villains in the form of stern faced, hard hearted old fossils. These were Foster Lee, Myron "Runt" Smiley, and Zac Stratford, taken by Bud Derbyshire, Merrill Devoe, and Harry Hadsell, respectively. "Runt" Smiley or Merrill Devoe, a hard hearing old gentleman, also serves as the source of many laughs. Can anyone forget his "What's that"?

The play takes place in the Morgan home situated in a typical small town. The Vestry with its love of authority has become selfish in its decision. Complications develop when Richard Morgan, the young minister, tries to reform the evils. When Dudley Grant and Jerry Truman, passers-by, see the wonderful work being forwarded by the minister, they decide to stick until the reformation is complete. In the events following, a love of a generation ago is unearthed and new loves are formed. All ends happily when the vestry sees its mistake and takes a lesson from the young folks.

This play was produced under the capable direction of Mrs. Rhonemus, who has coached many annual plays and is a thoroughly experienced director. Others who strove to make the play a success were Maxine Mayer, business manager, and Pauline Jones, property manager.

The Senate, the oldest parliamentary body of Central, was founded in 1916 as a club to encourage an interest in oratory and debate, to provide drill in parliamentary procedure, and to prepare students for participation in varsity debate. The organization is modeled after the United States Senate as nearly as possible in procedure and membership.

As is the usual custom, the Senate gave a program in Mass meeting in April in the form of a mock political campaign.

The final event of the year was a banquet in honor of the members.

Mr. Stanton Steiner, new faculty advisor for this year, has given valuable guidance in making the organization a laboratory for citizenship.

The purpose of the House of Representatives is to study parliamentary procedure and to further debating among the students of Central High school. It was established in 1921 under the direction of Mrs. Pence, and since that time the membership has steadily increased each year and the club has become more prominent.

At the regular meetings the members have debated many interesting subjects among which are reparations, Mahatma Gandhi and the nationalist movement in India, and many other current topics. Extemporaneous speeches and Round-Table discussions have also been given. Through these debates and discussions, the students learn much concerning government, and the principles of debate.

The club also had charge of an assembly program during the year at which time the members gave the student body an idea of their work for the year.

Among the social functions were a Valentine tea and a Christmas party which everyone greatly enjoyed.

Miss Georgia Swickard of Junior High who has charge of the club this year has worked diligently for the success of the club and is fully appreciated by the members.

LOWER ROW—Louise Hover, William Barndt, Warren Lewis, Kent Leach.

RESOLVED:—That the several states should enact legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance.

For the last five years the Central High School Debate Squad has been a member of the Ohio State Debating League. Through the zealous efforts of the squad and the faculty committee in charge, our debate team has already had the distinction of winning first place in the League District No. 3. This year, however, the squad has aspired to the second place in the district, due to two hard fought defeats from Bluffton and Fostoria.

On January 21, our affirmative team, debating at home, won a victory over Fostoria while the negative team lost to Bluffton. On January 28, the affirmative defeated Lyons and the negative, simultaneously, won a decided victory over Gibsonburg. At this time the squad, with its splendid work, was anticipating the continuation of its victories in the remaining two debates. On February 5, the anticipation was to be decided upon. The results were that the affirmative team, debating at home, won over Bluffton while the negative team lost to Fostoria.

The speakers on the affirmative team were Mary Cutter, Betty Jane Brown, and Howard Porter. Those on the negative team were Warren Lewis, Louise Hover, and Kent Leach. Other members of the squad besides the alternates, Billy Barndt and John Tillotson, were Joe Reed, Mark Reese, James Mitchell, Hyla Butler, and Bob Light. Although these pupils did not take an active part in the debates, their efforts were praised by the faculty committee. The active squad should be given due credit for their conscientious work in placing Central High school at a high level in the debating activities.

The faculty committee who ably coached the squad this year consisted of Mr. Boylan, chairman, Mrs. Pence, and Miss Howey.

The chairmen for each of the three debates held at Central auditorium were Mr. Crites, Mr. Heffner, and Mr. Romaker.

Through the seventeen years since the Boys' Glee Club was founded, it has become one of the most important activities of Central High school. Membership is determined by tryouts, Mr. Evans choosing the successful applicants.

Like the Girls' Glee Club, it makes up an important unit of the chorus and meets two or three times a week during the school year.

Some of the boys from the club helped to make the annual concert a success. They have given many programs such as singing before teachers' meetings, student assembly, churches, and other school and civic organizations.

The biggest event of the year in which the boys participated was the Eisteddfod at Defiance.

The success of the club this year was due to the untiring efforts of its supervisor, Mr. Evans, and to the genial cooperation of all the members.

The Girls' Glee Club was organized in 1914 to help in the recognition of natural abilities, to deepen an appreciation for music, and to present facts of worth concerning composers and performers.

Membership in the club is determined through tryouts. After a year in the club, a girl becomes eligible for the club pin if she has done something outstanding in the field of music.

During the activities of the year, programs have been presented before the student body, teachers' meetings, churches, and community enterprises; also, a successful participation in an Eisteddfod was one of the notable events of the year.

Mr. Mark Evans, the leader of the club, has done much to teach an understanding and appreciation of music.

This organization, founded in 1910, is made up of more advanced students who have had previous training in the Junior Orchestra and have an understanding and appreciation of music, have acquired formal, systematic work, and show an increase in proficiency.

Throughout the year the orchestra has been called upon to furnish special numbers for school affairs such as pageants, plays, operetta, assembly programs, and the Lyceum Course numbers.

The highest point of interest during the year for the orchestra was its participation in the annual Eisteddfod held at Fostoria.

Through the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Evans, much has been contributed to the ethical and character-training aspects of music as it supplements and enriches the other activities of the school.

This might be called the beginner's orchestra composed of students from the Junior High school organized to develop in the students the abilities to read music, to develop a sense of rhythm and time, to attain better technique, to master some instruments, to know good music from bad, to learn the organization, instrumentation, and placement of orchestra.

When much progress and capable work is shown by these more or less inexperienced students, they are placed in the Senior Orchestra.

This organization, whose membership is steadily increasing, does not enter the Eisteddfod nor does it make any public appearance, except when performing in coordination with the annual Junior High operetta. Mark Evans is the director of this orchestra.

The Central High School Band was organized in 1922, and has been one of the most prominent musical organizations in the school. It was under the direction of J. N. DuPere until this year when it was placed under the supervision of Mr. Mark Evans.

At the beginning of this year a change in schedule was made which required practices held twice a week during the first period on Tuesday and Thursday. In previous years, practices were held after school and the change is considered as a decided improvement because attendance is now compulsory, rather than merely optional.

The band, on different occasions, has made public appearances playing in the auditorium for assembly, or at basketball games adding loyal school spirit as it played the battle song and Alma Mater for Central.

Mr. Evans, as leader, has taught the boys much in how to play musically, march correctly, and wear the uniform with dignity, all of which is greatly appreciated.

Due credit should be given Central Junior High School for its entertaining operetta. This year Junior High presented "The Saucy Hollander."

The scene of this two-act operetta takes place in the garden of a Dutch palace on a Summer's day. Amusing complications arise with the fascinating princess. Meanwhile the father of the princess is suffering from a dreadful sleeping sickness. The doctor, in a clumsy and hilarious manner, performs a brain operation upon the king. Finally all complications are straightened out to everyone's advantage. Humor is supplied throughout by Hans, the stuttering tinker.

Jean Morley and Donald Roberson portrayed the romantic leads of the beautiful and talkative princess and the handsome prince respectively. The other major roles were taken by Hugh Day, the nervous king; Marjorie Chapman, the charming queen and the real head of the kingdom; and Carlton Asher, the clever and interesting Doctor Quick of the Royal Kingdom. The supporting cast was headedd by Richard McCormack, Hans; Jeanne Pond, Meena, his sweetheart; and Joe Freeman and Hollis McDonel, the sailors. Marcila Gamble and Ruby Neese will be remembered as the interesting Dutch singers.

The success of this operetta was chiefly due to the able direction of Miss Jeanette Stuart, as dramatic coach; Miss Violet Lewis, as music director; and Miss Lyda Buchanan, as dancing director.

Music

Every one likes music. However, tastes may differ as to the kind preferred, music in general has a universal appeal. Everyone throughout his life will hear a great deal of music. consequently, Central feels its obligation in helping to form musical tastes.

The music department of Central is well developed, and this year, is under the capable direction of Mr. Mark Evans, who has returned to Central after an absence of five years, during which time he was director of music at Ohio Northern University, at Ada, Ohio.

The most important features of the musical year are the eisteddfods. The instrumental eisteddfod was held this year at Fostoria. Central entered the string, brass, and woodwind ensembles, orchestra, and band. The orchestra number was the "G Minor Symphony" by Mozart: the band piece was "Overture Urbana" by Roberts. Central made a fine showing against the several other schools entered in the contest.

The vocal eisteddfod took place this year at Defiance. We ranked exceptionally high at this contest, the most credit of which is due Mr. Evans. Central entered all the vocal solos, piano solo, quartets, girls' glee chorus, boys' glee chorus, and mixed chorus. "Oh, For the Wings of a Dove" by Mendelsohn, was the girls' glee number; "Come to Me in My Dreams" by Kane, the boys' glee; and "Goodnight Beloved" by Pinsuti, the mixed chorus number.

The junior orchestra is a group of training musicians; members are usually graduated to the senior orchestra. This lesser organization has rendered a mass meeting program and played for the junior high operetta.

Towards the latter part of the year the department gave a concert composed chiefly of the numbers of the eisteddfods. This was planned and carried out by Mr. Evans. This concert proved to be a huge success and will probably demand repetition in future years.

The graduation exercises proved to be the conclusion of the year's musical appearances. Cooperating with the South High music department, the chorus sang at the baccalaureate services and the orchestra played at the commencement exercises.

In summing up the record of the entire year, we would say that music has had a cultural and broadening influence in the school, and the pupils have a better understanding and appreciation of good music.

Since the organization of the Central Senior Hi-Y in 1918, the purpose of the club has been "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

The slogan is "A clean standard of living: in speech, in athletics, and in scholarship."

During the year Sunday Forums were held every other week in co-operation with the Blue Triangle Club at which time interesting and current questions were discussed.

As a school objective the Four C's Campaign was conducted by this club together with the Blue Triangle; also the Life Work Campaign.

Franklin Young represented the club at the World Conference at Toronto as delegate last summer; also a number of members attended the Older Boys' Conference at Dayton.

The Hi-Y members have had a very successful year under the splendid leadership of Mr. Overmire, of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Romaker, of the faculty, as advisors; also the work of Noel Broxon as sergeant-at-arms, James Mitchell as chairman of the membership committee, and Merton Sealts as chairman of the program committee, have been appreciated.

The Central Hi-Y Club was organized over forty years ago by the boys attending Lima High at that time. It was then a small group that met in the gym to carry out the motto, "To create, maintain and extend throughout the town and community, high standards of Christian living." The club developed such a large membership that there are now two sections—the Junior Hi-Y, consisting of freshman and sophomore boys, and the Senior Hi-Y, consisting of junior and senior boys.

The club, under the supervision of Mr. Overmire, of the Y. M. C. A., has sponsored many lectures and forums.

The influence of the club has been very extensive throughout the school and has created great interest among the boys.

The Blue Triangle Club was organized by the Y. W. C. A. in 1921 with three cardinal principles—health, knowledge, and spirit. As an aim, the club strives "to make as contribution to those elements in the life of a girl which set free the ideals and convictions that help a girl to live as a Christian of her age should live." The slogan is "to face life squarely."

Regular meetings of the club have been held on Thursday after school at the Y. W. C. A. Some of these meetings have been inspirational when outside speakers have given talks on varied subjects of interest to the girls; others have been social and recreational after which an enjoyable cup of tea was passed.

The club also cooperated with the Hi-Y in sponsoring the Forums held every two weeks on Sunday afternoon; also, in the work of the 4 C's campaign.

A Recognition Service was held in February at the Y. W. C. A. where twenty-five new girls were recognized as members.

The club has been supervised this year by Miss Howey for the seniors; Miss Riggs, juniors; Miss Linnell, sophomores; and Miss Mendenhall, freshmen. The club has greatly appreciated the guidance of the supervisors in making effective the purposes of the club.

Girls' Citizenship Club

Miss Deputy organized this club in 1928 to impress the physical, social, intellectual, moral, and religious characteristics of good citizenship.

Perhaps the aims which guide the activities of the club might be expressed in a few sentences, each one conveying some different phase of the things for which the club stands. It seems to act as a unifying influence in the lives of the girls, to increase their sense of responsibility towards others, to make and keep social standards, to give those interested, the opportunity to engage in some practical work for others, to promote the welfare and care for the interests of the girls, to foster loyalty and enthusiasm for the best interests of the school, and to inspire the girls with the highest ideals of womanhood.

Throughout the year the programs were varied. Often speakers gave talks of vital interest to the group after which discussions would be held. In this way many of the perplexing problems of the girls were in a great part solved for them. One interesting project was an attempt to analyze through personal observation, the differences between a good and bad production of moving pictures from the moral effect upon people, especially those in high school.

Through the unselfish leadership of Miss Deputy, the girls have not only realized the importance of the value of such ideals, but have earnestly tried to put them into every day school life.

Pre-College Club

The Pre-College Club which was organized three years ago by Mr. Waugh is now under the direction of Mr. Crites.

The work of this club gives those pupils interested in "the how and where" to go to college. There are so many different colleges and universities that it is difficult to choose. There is not an abundant fund of available material about them, either, so the information seeker is driven to statistical reference books, or to college catalogues, which may not be well understood. But in the club, every effort is made to acquaint the prospective college student with the advantages and the disadvantages of going to college; suggesting the types of boys and girls who are likely to benefit by it, and those who are not; stating clearly what the new admission requirements and methods are; and giving enough information about individual colleges to enable parents and students to make a preliminary choice of a few of them for further investigations.

Aside from the systematic study during the club periods, the meetings have been varied on different occasions by speakers who have talked upon some vital phase of the question.

Because the question of going to college is a popular one, the membership has grown very much, and Mr. Crites, the advisor, has done much to keep up the interest manifested.

The Home Economics Club was founded in 1930 by Miss Phyllis Mendenhall at the request of some girls who were interested in domestic topics.

Last year, they studied the various phases of Home Economics, and discussions were held on major questions. Reports were given by the members on hospital training and charitable organizations. This year, reports were given on women in business and industry. The members helped to make the costumes for the Junior High Operetta, and later used the scraps to make a patch-work quilt which was given to a poor family. Several times during the year field trips were taken to "window-shop" for the trend of modern styles.

This year, the Home Economics Club was again under the supervision of Miss Mendenhall, to whom much credit should be given for maintaining such a worthy organization, we hope that the club will continue its good work in the years to come.

Biology Club

FIRST ROW—Julia Stanish, Martha Michael, Aaron Blank, Miss Mary Belle Linnell, Gladys Michael, Ruth Basinger.

The Biology Club was organized only last year by Miss Linnell, but in the two years of its existence, the students have shown a decided interest in, and a desire for the continuance of the club.

It was organized for students who are interested in plant and animal life. During club periods, the members have had the opportunity for more extended observation, comparison, and explanation into those functions which are common to both plant and animal life, into the way in which organisms live, and their dependence upon one another and upon the physical world. In this way, fascinating facts and relations of biology are discovered. Also, attention was given to human biology and public health. The discussion of food and dietetics added something of a practical nature to the things considered. Further, a study of bacteria and its relations to plant, animal, and human life was given further attention than is possible in the regular class periods.

Through the helpful guidance of Miss Linnell the members have felt that the work of the club has been decidedly beneficial.

Aviation Club

FIRST ROW—Albert Gair, Kathryn Zimmerman, Doris Swick, Allen Smith.
SECOND ROW—Glenn Kilgore, Leo Davly, Kathryn Simpson, Mr. Stoner, Francis Lackey, Eli Plaugher, Kenneth Welty.

ALBERT GAIR - - - - - - - - - President
KATHRYN ZIMMERMAN - - - - - Secretary-Treasurer

The Model Aeroplane Club was founded in 1930 by Mr. Stoner at the request of a number of students particularly interested in the subject of aviation.

The purpose of the club was to awaken and develop a further interest in aviation; to give the members an understanding of aeronautical principles and to acquaint them with the history and development of aviation, including the present status of the aeroplane and its possible future.

The activities of the club have been interesting. Talks and reports on early attempts at flying have been given and the contributions made by these attempts. Further, discussions of the principles of sustained flight, airdromes, rudder, wings, and under-carriage, and the construction of an aeroplane; maintenance of the aeroplane; repairs; the aeroplane in peace and in war; commercial and mail possibilities have been given.

Records in aviation and stories of flying by local fliers have been noted; study from photographs and illustrations has been instructive; use of magazines on aviation, air service, and popular mechanics has stimulated interest and given constructive ideas.

As a practical project the members of the club have made models of different types of planes. These were tested, and the two best of them was put on display. Thus through the splendid guidance of Mr. Stoner as supervisor, the theoretical and practical results have been brought together with the effect that each member has increased his interest and knowledge in this subject.

Art Club

MATT EARLY - - - - - - - - Vice President
MARJORIE CONRAD - - - - - Secretary-Treasurer

The Art Club was established in 1919 by Miss Kelly to discover and direct artistic ability; to study the principles of art; to give the student more opportunity for artistic self-expression than is possible in the limited time and curriculum of the class room; and to help teach the students a larger appreciation of fineness and beauty.

Regular meetings are held every two weeks; however, many of the members meet every week if some interesting project needs more time given than can be had at the regular meetings.

The activities of the meetings are varied and interesting, including such things as discussions of form, mass, color, and composition; the making of posters, many of which have been used in the school during the year; drawing and sketching of birds, animals, and landscapes; study of the history of art, illustrated by examples; scenery designing for plays, some of which was used as background scenery for plays and pageants given on school programs during the year; exhibitions of pictures loaned or rented for the occasion; designs and inserts for the Annual Mirror; vocational discussions about book, magazine, or newspaper illustrations; and, finally, an exhibition of work done by art students of Central.

Mrs. Burrel, the supervisor, has worked faithfully to establish this club permanently among the clubs of Central, and to make felt the ideals for which it was founded.

Library Club

FIRST ROW—Margaret Steiner, Carolyn Wylie, Helen Baker, Elizabeth Neuman, Evelyn Klinger, Annette Vincent, Elizabeth Thomas, Josephine Steiner, Ruth Prottingeier, Mary Lou Murphy, Jean Pletcher, Mary Elizabeth Claypoole.

The Library Club, under the supervision of Miss Reilly, has successfully completed its second year. The membership of the club has shown an increase, and the work has been both interesting and educational.

Only pupils wishing to prepare for library work are admitted to the club and they have shown a great deal of interest in its activities. During each club period lectures are heard upon the care of books, classification of books, shelving of books, charging and discharging of books, and the repairing and cataloguing of books. Each girl is given a chance to show what she has learned during the club year by helping in the library.

During Book Week, the first week in November, the club sponsored an exhibition of new books. This was very successful. They also observed Liberty Day, April 14, and entire charge of the library, for one day, was taken by the club members.

This club, in its teaching of library methods and library science, is a direct link between the library and the departments of the school.

Commercial Club

FIRST ROW—Eva Fay, Harriet Fenton, Laura Jane Gilbert, Virginia Cotterman, Marie Weber, Winifred Umbaugh, Sadie Stanich, Leah Johns, Mary Ufheil, Helen Swaney.

SECOND ROW—Margaret Clevenger, Geraldine Haddix, Betty Welker, Bernice Long, Fairy Simmons, Charline Rehn, Dorothy Deaubler, Louise Gast, Helen Rathburn, Lucille McGeorge, Ruth Lowman, Ruth Meyers.

THIRD ROW—Pauline Rimer, Alice McCormack, Ruby Davidson, Bob Scheufler, Eugene Fairburn, Helen Clevenger, Dorothy Bryant.

The Commercial Club, sponsored by Mr. C. R. DeLong, was very active this year. The club was open for membership to any commercial student of Central and the seniors were urged especially to join. Regular meetings were held the first and third Wednesday of each month.

The programs arranged by special committees appointed by the president included: talks by prominent business men on valuable topics, demonstrations, spelling contests, other various contests and open forums, all of which were greatly enjoyed by the members.

The purpose of the Commercial club is to better acquaint the students with the achievements, progress and understanding of the present business world.

Mr. DeLong and other Commercial teachers deserve much credit for their efforts in helping make the club a success.

Camera Club

FIRST ROW—Charity Murray, Gertrude Blank, Robert McElderry, Helen Barrington, James Eley, Eleanor Gast, Julianne Bussert.

SECOND ROW—James Marshall, Carl Cook, Robert Obenour, Harold McConnell, Maxine Judy, William Rentz, Berger Areskog, Robert Bradley, Mr. Huber.

The Camera Club was organized in 1927 by Mr. Cahill at the request of a group of boys. Their purpose was to study the various phases of photography. When Mr. Cahill left three years ago, Mr. Huber became supervisor of the club.

The first meetings of the year were devoted to the study of the structure of the camera, careful study being given to the lens and its effect on the time requirement for making exposures. Weather conditions such as cloudiness, brightness and type of picture, landscape, portrait, or snapshots of moving objects were discussed. Thus through their study the members learned how to take better pictures.

The next phase of photography studied by the club was development and printing, noting the effects and advantages of different developes in the development of the film.

Through the cooperation of Berg's Camera Shop an enlargement of the best picture made by the club is given each month.

The Adon Studio gave a lecture and demonstration on the kind of paper to be used with different types of negatives.

The spring meetings were used for field excursions and picture taking. The final meeting of the year was a picnic.

Mr. Huber, supervisor, contributed much to make the club interesting and successful.

Student Patrol and Corridor Duty

If the question of what activities are contributing most this year to good school and community citizenship were asked, the answer would likely be that Student Patrol and Corridor Duty are doing much to show that school life is not artificial nor different from that outside the school.

The Student Council this year realized that school is not a thing apart but that it is life itself and so have wished to have students share in the responsibility of administering certain activities and interests. As an opportunity for self direction, a system of duty officers in the hall was instituted. It was one liked by the pupils and proper conduct in the halls has been maintained willingly on the part of the students.

Student traffic regulators were put at the four street corners of the building as a means of greater safety for the school children. Perhaps the comment of Chief of Police Cook that no organization in the city of Lima is doing the amount of good in safety that the Student Police Patrol is accomplishing, will give a fair impression of the activity.

Mr. Crites who has had the direction of these activities, thoroughly believed in the success of the experiment and has had sufficient evidence to show that it is a sound and workable theory.

The Student Council of Central High school was organized five years ago in order to unify all student organizations under one general control; to aid in the internal administration of the school; to foster sentiments of law and order; to promote the general activities of the school; to develop in the student a growing appreciation of membership in a democracy by providing the educative responsibilities of, and privileges of participating in, such a democracy in the school; to promote in all ways the best interests of the school.

The twenty-two members are composed of one seventh grader, one eighth grader, two freshmen, four sophomores, six juniors, and eight seniors.

This group of solons supervise the student patrol, hall duties, authorize club charters, formulate programs for auditorium meetings, cooperate with the "Mirror" in the Who's Who contest and Maiden's Chance Week, supervise Field Day and provide a Handbook for every student.

Mr. Crites, faculty supervisor of the council, has done much to make the organization an effective administration body in the school.

STUDENT LIFE

Nonsense

WHO'S WHAT IN 1983

To belong to the Who's What of 1983 you must not only be a member of the class of 1932, but you must have gained world wide renown by marriage, divorce, or profession.

Not a single word in this Who's What is paid for and no remarks are necessary.

Mable Hinton

Surpasses Peggy Joyce Hopkins, having been married and divorced nine times. At the present time she is taking a beauty rest at the Fallenarches Islands.

John Sarber

Famous jazz orchestra leader and crooner. Isham Jones, Guy Lombardo, and Ben Bernie were certainly sorry to see this little lad graduate from high school—"believe you me."

Anna Florine Randolph

Noted authoress, having traveled around the world three times, has finally completed her book, "The Rice Condition in China."

Leland Welty

Critics declare him a genius, having portrayed the role of the famous Shakespearean actor, Hamlet.

Joanna Varga

Having as much talent as this little girl had in 1932, we are chagrined to say she is nothing but a pan cake flipper in a downtown window.

Leonard Faurot

Affiliated with the Ditch Diggers' Union for ten years, we are now proud to announce that he is the president of the United Ditch Diggers' Union in Someville.

Tillie Kuhn

Has turned into an ideal housewife, having always read the magazines "Care of the Home" and "How to Hold Your Husband" during her study hall periods in 1932.

Jack Agee

Became a millionaire by inventing a non-skidable banana peeling.

Naomi Brown

Proprietress of the Wuggly Puggly Store but went bankrupt in 1972 because of devoting too much of her time to James Mitchell.

James Hunt

Is now with the "Hold-Up" circus as the bearded woman.

Helen Swaney

Great African game huntress. It is said that she has fought as many as three lions single handed.

Robert Miller

Succeeded Rudolph Valentino as the great lover.

Alice McCoy

Married the famous Dr. I. M. Sick and is the proud owner of "Myvawney" who won the last Kentucky Derby.

Robert Vittur

Struck oil in Maine and is now fabulously rich. He resides at 1000 Park Avenue, and has been married five times He is at present reported engaged to Kathryn Tuttle, the well known chiropractor, who was also one of Central's class of 1932.

Dorothy Agerter and Louise Agerter

The world famous twins have toured the world eleven times giving speeches on the famous "igotit" bug which they found in their back yard in 1946.

Paul Hughes

Has taken up wild animal training. He specializes in a certain species of wild white women.

Kathryn Fisher

Famed sculptress. Jessie Rhonemus posed for her well known statue, "Love."

William Scott

Noted model for "Big, Large, and Cheap" hats. Deceased 1952 owing to water on the brain.

Louise Hover

Active leader of "Women's Rights Party." Her sole ambition is to give women every right men have.

Henry Enck

Professor of Spanish at Western College for Women.

Miriam Landes

Has been training fleas for ten years and finally succeeded in getting one to nod its head.

James Dempsey

Has the title of "Aunt Lulu" in the Lima Daily News, Advice to the Love Lorn.

Things That Happened Yesterday

Leland Welty breezed up to Central in his new Mercedes model T which was given to him for endorsing "Luve Boy Soap."

Mildred Jennings signed a contract in Hollywood to play opposite Lloyd Hamilton in "Two Hours with You."

Albert Gunther made his violin debut at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Aaron Blank was proclaimed America's ping pong champion.

Naomi Brown became the official fly-paper tester of the "Stringemup" grocery store.

Dick Light accepted the job as producer of "Light and Jackson Love Story Magazines."

Margaret Eleanor Jones left for Africa to study those little teeny weenie worms we call rattlesnakes.

Mr. Howard Scheuerman, the illustrious lecturer, gave a three-hour lecture at the Memorial Hall on "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Virginia Haines' marriage to Kenneth Jackson announced by her parents.

Bob Bowdle took up fencing—what ho?

Velma Harpster lost her job as manacurist at "Jerry's Beauty Shop."

Genie CaJacob thumbed his way to Oxford to see his grandmudder, Mary.

Alice Black became champion doughnut dunker at the "Greasy Skillet."

Carl Armentrout finally secured the job as head janitor at Vassar.

Betty Jane Brown took up raising cabbages and turnips in her backyard for the poor little rabbits what never get anything to eat.

Nancy McLaughlin was pronounced America's Venus de Milo only she has arms—isn't that an old one?

Winifred Umbaugh became teacher of political science at Beaverdarn.

Robert Miller, the well known philanthropist, gave the sum of $1.98 to the "Institution of Blind Ants."

Janis Lippincott has been sent to the "Taylor Sanitarium" due to a fall when practicing Laibe's famous back slide on the roof garden of her pent-house.

Cecil Marks was committed to the State Insane Asylum for the alienation of Geraldine Miller's affections.

Margaret Maxon became the only woman constable in Toonerville.

Harold Hill was declared champion hog caller of Pickel County.

Mrs. Jessie Rhonemus completed her novel, "The Sailor Staggered Drunkenly Across the Street."

Bernard Mullen finished his 158th day as Central's flag-pole sitter.

Dorothy Ireland went to Ireland but she can't speak Ireland—what'll she do?

Basil Van Horn was given the position of catcher on Lima's "Dirty Nine."

A LASTING impression

ON the printing press, when paper and plate meet, a lasting impression is made and a permanent record established as to the quality of the art, photographs, and engravings which have been used.

Another lasting impression is made . . . this time, when your prospects—who know your company only through the advertising sent out—see your newspaper or direct mail effort.

It is important that your prospects have a lasting impression of quality whenever they look at your advertising . . . it is, therefore, necessary that the company you choose to create your advertising art be one in which you can place absolute confidence.

The Lima Photo Engraving Company with many years of practical experience to draw from is well qualified to assume this responsibility. Here, you will find men skilled in giving that subtle touch of life to drawings and paintings . . . engravers qualified by years to produce high grade work . . . photographers who, by certain blending of light and shadow, can bring your product or service to the very eyes of your prospects.

Here, modern thought, unique ideas, marvelous skill, beautiful techniques . . . are all combined to give you a service surpassed by none.

We invite comparison of our work and, to that end, will be pleased to call with samples and tell you all about our qualifications as they relate to your business.

Phone us . . . no obligation.

THE CHERRY TREE INCIDENT TODAY

A frock-coated secretary touched young Washington on the arm.

"The tree is ready, Master George."

The boy yawned, "Are the camera men here?"

"Seven of them from the leading news-reel companies, sir, and there are also nine press stenographers."

"And the microphone for the sound films?"

"It is in position. The exact spot where you are to stand is indicated by a chalk mark."

"Is quite a crowd waiting?"

"At least 5,000 persons, I should say. The temporary grand stand is completely filled."

"All right, I'll go on out. Tell Dad to be ready for his cue."

A clatter of applause burst from the stand as the boy entered the orchard and took his place before a roped-off cherry tree. While cameras functioned, he began to chop with a shining new hatchet, the blows sending chips flying in all directions. Souvenir hunters rushed forward to collect the falling bits of wood, but were warned back by a squad of special officers.

Young Washington paused from his chopping to step close to the micraphone.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "for the benefit of those wishing a souvenir of this occasion, I would like to announce that I will be in the cutlery department of Bergstein's Broadway Store on Thursday morning from ten o'clock until 11:30, at which time I will personally autograph a chip from this tree for each person making a purchase of ten dollars or more."

At a nod from him an attend-

Your High School Diploma
the foundation of Your Career

Whether you go on to college or secure a position, one of the most important questions you will have to answer is "Are you a High School Graduate?"

High School training is today the foundation for nearly every career.

After High School, if you are interested in a career in Business, it will pay you to investigate the training offered by the Northwestern School of Commerce. A catalogue describing the opportunities and courses will gladly be furnished on request.

ant scurried about, gathering the chips into a large basket.

Young George resumed his chopping, and in a few moments the tree toppled to the ground.

After a pause an elderly man walked stiffly across to the tree, turned to face the waiting cameras, took off his hat, replaced it hurriedly, then took it off again to the accompaniment of a dazed smile. Unfolding a sheet of paper, he read from it in a strained monotone: "My son, what is the meaning of this? Are you the one who chopped down my favorite cherry tree? Answer me!"

Young George stepped nearer the micraphone.

"I cannot tell a lie, father," he enunciated. "I did it with a Model A-12 superforged, American-manufactured CHOPZ KWIK hatchet—The Hatchet That is Making History."

"No, suh! Ah may resemble him, but I don't croon a note."

Judge: "So you deserted your wife just because she was always asking for pin-money?"

Len F.: "Yeh; but it was diamond pins she wanted."

Edna Paul: "He cleaned up a big fortune in crooked dough."

Dottie Lenord: "Was he a counterfeiter?"

Edna: "Naw, a pretzel manufacturer."

Mary McKee: "I wonder how Thanksgiving originated?"

Paul Tuttle: "It was probably instituted by parents whose sons had survived the football season."

Who Sits Down To the Table Last?

Who sits down to the table last? It's mother when there isn't an electric range . . . fagged out, too tired to eat, particularly in hot weather. The electric range eliminates all this; it is cool . . . automatic. And mother can enjoy the delectable meal she has prepared; and because it was prepared on an electric range, it's a more delectable meal, and was more easily prepared.

A Sophomore's Psalm

By Violet Flowers

Miss Deputy is my teacher; I shall not pass.

She maketh me to study the book of Caesar: she leadeth me through the translations for my grade's sake.

Yea, though I study until midnight, I cannot pass.

She prepareth tests and questions for me in the presence of my classmates: she anointeth my grades with zeros; my work runneth over.

Surely translations shall trouble me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the book of Caesar forever.
